Secretarial Scribblings

Dear Members,

As 2006 draws to a close, it's time to reflect on what the year has meant for us as a Club. In so many ways it's been great fun, but it's also been a year tinged with sadness as a result of the loss of our President, Doug Langley, in October. As most of us know, Doug and Hylda have had a long and happy association with our breed, not to mention a very successful one with over 30 Torpin champions since their involvement with the breed in the 1960's. Doug became a Life Member of the Club in 1992 and was elected President 10 years ago; it was a role that he was very proud to undertake, taking his responsibilities very seriously and always keen to act with the Club's best interests at heart. Nominations for a new president will be requested in January in preparation for the Club's AGM in March. Let's hope that we will be able to find someone who will undertake the role with the same sort of dedication...

As always, a very big thank you to everyone who works so hard on the Club's behalf...you know who you are! As I've mentioned before, we are fortunate that we have committee members and helpers who are prepared to give their time and energy to keep the Club running smoothly. A personal thank you from me to the many people who have helped me fulfil the role of Secretary for the last 5 years. I've enjoyed it very much, but due to commitments at home (most importantly a new home that requires lots of DIY!), I've decided to stand down at next year's AGM. I will, of course, give the new secretary all the help and support that I can to make the transition for the Club and its members as smooth as possible.

A reminder that membership subscriptions are due on 1 January. They remain unchanged at £7.00 for joint, £5.00 for single, £1.00 for junior and £7.00 for overseas. Please make cheques payable to 'The Miniature Pinscher Club' and send them to me at 'Jalna', Meadway, West Bay, near Bridport, Dorset, DT6 4HP. If you'd like to make arrangements to pay by standing order, please contact Club Treasurer, Susan Colborne-Baber.

Finally, I hope that you and your Min Pins have an enjoyable time over the festive period. With very best wishes for 2007.

Mandy

From the Editor.....

Well another end to another year and Christmas looms upon us. It has been a lovely year for Mark and myself by breeding our first Champion and the Llewellyns with their first homebred champion. Unfortunately we lost an old time Min Pinner in Doug Langley although I am sure Doug is up there watching over the breed and he recently said that he thought the breed was in good hands. It is vitally important to preserve bloodlines that have been very influential to the breed as without some of the lines the breed wouldn't be what it is today.

I must say thank you to everyone who has contributed to this edition of "Pencilmarks" I found this edition particularly hard as life has been pretty manic over the last 4 months what with house moves and one thing or another so I apologise if it is a bit thin.

Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

.....Chris

Doug Langley

It is with much sadness that I report the death of Doug Langley (Torpin) writes Mandy Burns. Doug died suddenly at his home in Devon on Thursday 12th October. He would have been 84 years old in October.

Doug and his wife, Hylda, have had a long, happy and very successful association with Miniature Pinschers, their first champion, Toykokep Music Man gaining his crown in 1967. Music Man sired 10 British Champions and became the breed record sire. Music Man was not the Langleys only record holder on Christmas Day 1982 Torpin Christmas Cracker was born. Cracker amassed a total of 30 CC's, 28 with BOB, BIS at the Miniature Pinscher Championship Club Show, 4 reserve toy groups at Championship Shows including Crufts, 5 group wins and RBIS at UK Toy. Cracker remains the breed record holder to this day. In all, there were more than 30 Torpin champions with almost 200 CC's between them. As well as being successful in this country, the Langley's exported several dogs to friends in New Zealand where the success continued.

Doug and Hylda became members of the Miniature Pinscher Club in 1966. In 1992 Doug was honoured with life membership and in 1996 he was elected president, a role which he took very seriously and that he was proud to undertake on the clubs behalf. He was at the clubs championship show just a few weeks ago and was always a keen supporter of the club and its events.

Doug first awarded CC's in the breed in 1974 and judged for the last time at Paignton in July this year. Doug served on the committee Paignton for over 20 years and on his recent retirement from the committee was made vice president. He was also actively involved with local canine societies and with his local dog training club.

For many people, Doug's name and the Torpin affix are synonymous with Min Pins in this country. He had an enormous passion and enthusiasm for the breed he loved right to the end of his life and could always be relied upon to give an honest opinion on a dog.

Doug will be very much missed by many people in the dog world, and our thoughts are with Hylda at this very sad time.

A Trip of a Lifetime by Aileen Coull

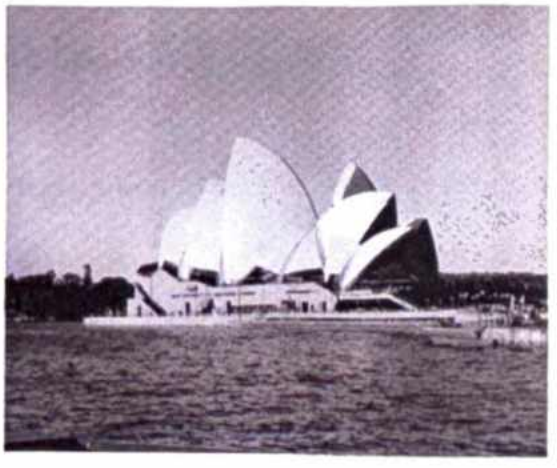
When the email first arrived inviting me to judge the New South Wales Miniature Pinscher Club's Championship show, my first thoughts I'll admit were " I can't do it – not go all that way and leave everything here" Having talked it over with Wendi and my partner Grant, they reassured me that everything would be ok and of course I had to accept it. So I did. And then spent the next year worrying about the trip.

Many will remember Kathy Potts who came over from Australia to stay for Crufts – she and I had become really good friends having met on a Min Pin chat list. She came over to stay for three weeks in the UK so it was only fair that I inflict myself on her – she very quickly replied to my begging email for a bed for three weeks – of course I could stay. Then it was all a matter of booking the flight and getting ready to leave all this lot here in the capable hands of Wendi and Grant. This in itself was like organising a military operation – three dogs on medication – one Addisons, one diabetic and one arthritic old man, plus all the other dogs, parrots and fish - the reams of instructions written could be published as a book. However, on the morning of the flight everything was sorted, written and organised and Wendi's mum and dad drove me down to Heathrow. There was a slight panic at check in about the weight of my suitcase (ask anyone who has ever seen me pack the caravan – I don't do "travelling light!") but we managed to talk the check in girl into letting it go on the plane.

I kissed everyone goodbye and thought "well, no going back now". I flew with Quantas and can honestly say that they really were wonderful. A steward followed me down the plane to my seat and spotting the Min Pin luggage label on my camera bag asked me about it. Turned out he bred Boxers and so for the whole of the flight to Singapore, I got all the perks of First Class without actually sitting there – thanks Steve – you were great.

Singapore was amazing but the heat – walking out of the terminal was like walking into a brick wall. I was glad that I wasn't spending to long here. The humidity really was unbearable. Soon the plane was landing in Sydney and Kathy was waiting for me. She lives about an hour from the airport and we talked non stop all the way home (despite the fact I hadn't slept for nearly 24 hours) It was great to meet all Kathy's Pins and Jobie the lovely Whippet – I'd heard so much about them and seen photos and now here they were. I was introduced to Sebastian (the parrot) and to Kathy's gorgeous daughter Charmaine – it was a complete madhouse but very much home from home with wall to wall dogs.

Kathy had a show lined up for us the very next day – down in Canberra – so we got up at some unearthly hour and set off with three dogs. This was a Championship show, but not as we know it. Everyone sets up gazebos round the ringside and all their picnic stuff and then flits from gazebo to gazebo – all very sociable. The sun was blazing down and soon I got working on the tan – despite Kathy telling me that it was really quite cool. The judging is really very similar to ours except for the fact that there were far fewer dogs and at the end each class winner is judged against the relevant opposite sex for the "best ofs" We had a great day and I saw some lovely dogs in other breeds (as I was judging in less than a week, I gave the Min Pin ring a wide berth)



Kathy really was the perfect hostess – we went sightseeing in Windsor (where a Country Practise is filmed) and we took the ferry from Parramata up into Sydney Harbour. As we came round the last corner of the river into the harbour, it finally hit me that I really was in Australia – there in front of me was that famous bridge and the opera house. It made the hair on the back of my neck stand up – really awesome.

Over Easter, we went to the Sydney Royal Show – Kathy had two dogs entered. I suppose you could equate it to our Crufts, but in glorious sunshine, without all the hassle of wall to wall crowds (although there were a lot of people there) The Royal really has got it right – the benches were behind railings so that the public can filter along and look at the dogs but they cannot touch them or bother them. If the exhibitors want to be sociable with them, then they will talk to them, if they want to be left in peace – they wont ! There is a "exhibitor only" walkway to the loos and the café, policed at either end – Joe Bloggs not allowed. Just imagine – no standing in line for the Ladies frightened to death you are going to miss your class.

The rings are under cover and there is a commentator in each ring who calls out the numbers of the placed dogs and the winners. The judge was Mr K Wada from Japan and he certainly didn't waste any time going over the dogs and moving them. He then moved each dog into their placings. Moved them all again and then finally placed them. There are no critiques written so the next class is waiting to come in and the previous one is going out – blink and you miss it all. The dog CC and BOB went to a young red dog that I thought was gorgeous and secretly hoped would be under me at the Club show.

There are few trade stands at these shows – not like we expect to find over here so it became clear why Kathy "shopped till she dropped" when she was over here. We did get a chance to wander round the main show which was very like the old days of Three Counties and Peterborough – an agricultural show with a dog show attached. After a very long day, it was time to wander home to a Barbie on the veranda at Kathy's with another glass of wonderful Aussie red.

Benching at the Sydney Royal

We went into Sydney a couple of times, one trip we went out to Manley Beach to walk along it and watch all the young kids surfing (oh to be that young and that slim again!!!!) I managed to get bitten on the foot and ankle by something nasty and ended up with a foot and ankle like a tree trunk and in the pharmacy. I have to say at this point that I need not have existed as far as Kathy and the pharmacist were concerned as they discussed between them as to whether I had been bitten by a White Tailed spider or something more sinister! I meanwhile was desperately trying to remember what the travel insurance covered !! We also went on another trip down the coast to see the Blowing Stone and then meet some of the locals.

New South Wales is lucky that it has several of it's own showgrounds – the one we visited several times was a fabulous place – loads of car parking, space for caravans, about 20 big rings, a Clubhouse and floodlighting for evening shows. It was a perfect set up. Each ring has a canopy where the dogs can be judged in the shade (or the dry if it rains) On the day of the Min Pin Club show, there was also a Club Ch show for the Lowchens and a Toy Dog Ch. This was great because it meant that exhibitors could do two shows in one day by just walking to another ring

Even in Aus I couldn't get away from Royal Canin!
They sponsored the show

The weather was just perfect for the show – about 25 degrees when we started so just warm enough. The baby puppy classes were a great chance to see real baby Pins. Unlike us, in Australia, puppies can be shown from 3 months – it was comical to watch these babies strut their stuff with so much confidence. The tails on some took a little getting used to but there were fewer than I had expected and it didn't take many minutes to get used to them. One thing the Aussies could teach us to do is to breed a really deep clear red – with black nails and noses! They were stunning. There were also a couple of chocolates that I admired – deep chocolate, sharp defined tan and oozing breed type.

Each dog has to come into the ring in numerical catalogue order so there is always a little bit of a wait for the steward to sort them out and then they come in and go once round the ring. This really gives you a chance to get a good look at them before the handlers stand them – good way to do it.

There were many dogs that I could have quite cheerfully packed in the case to bring home – breed type was excellent although, as in the UK, some classes were of mixed quality. Hackney movement was obviously at the forefront of most breeders minds which was fine BUT in some, it seemed to have taken priority over everything else. I found some backends which were quite frankly, appalling. On the whole though, I was really impressed with the quality and soundness of the dogs present. My DCC & BIS went to the young red dog that I had seen at the Royal – he just oozed quality and type. He was very raw and needs to mature a little more but I thought he was wonderful and such a showman. His movement was to die for, as was his head. My BCC & RBIS was, to my mind, the breed standard – she was totally stunning. She lost out to the dog for BIS as she just lacked the sparkle and animation that was needed for BIS but by that time it really was very hot. BPIS was a super red boy who just showed his socks off – bred and handled by one of the biggest characters I met while I was over there.

The Fancy Dress Class winner

Afterwards, I had to judge all the variety or property classes this included a fancy dress class which was amazing - the trouble some people had gone to was incredible. The winner had to be the belly dancer in the harem pants, owned I think by Kim Williams. I really had a lovely day with some fabulous dogs. When all the judging was over, we had a BBQ and stayed in the showground until it was too dark and getting cold. Well done Jackie on organizing that little lot.

We were back at the show ground the next day for another show – time to relax and watch what another judge would do with more or less the same dogs that I had judged the day before. Many exhibitors had camped at the show ground and I got to meet a litter of baby puppies by a Malaysian import. They were adorable and looked really promising, again, some really deep clear reds.

A few days later, we were heading up into the Blue Mountains to visit Kim Williams and to pick up Charmaine's new puppy Marshall. The scenery was stunning and we stopped to do the tourist bit at the top – totally awesome. We spent a wonderful afternoon sitting on Kim's veranda playing with puppies and Pins and just chilling. I was going home the next day so it was really sad to say goodbye to everyone who had made me feel so welcome and at home. I don't know where the time went – it just seemed to fly past and soon I was back at the airport, begging the check in girl to let the bag go on the plane (she did!) I had a great time in Australia, the people were great, the dogs were wonderful and I would go back tomorrow – I loved it!!

Thank you to everyone who made it possible and to Kathy and Charmaine who put up with the Pom who kept falling asleep every night after dinner (and getting hysterical at every bit of Australian wildlife she found in the house) Thank you to Jackie and the NSW Min Pin Club for inviting me to judge, it was a real honour. To the home team of Wendi and Grant – a really big thank you – without you two I couldn't have gone.

I am now saving madly for my next trip (but don't tell Kathy – she might move house if she thinks I'm coming back)

Whistlerfarm Golden May at Dimogen:

Not many people understand
just how you feel today
And really it's so difficult
To find the words to say

For you have lost a special friend
Who meant so much to you
And they will stay inside your heart
Whatever you may do

Such precious recollections
Of love you truly shared
And natural devotion
That can never be compared

So just remember happy moments
Smile if you can
Be thankful for the time you had
And you will understand

Although it's hard, there has to be
A time to say "Goodbye"
But memories which are dear to you will never ever die.

GINA'S STORY

It was the night of February 2nd 2006 when my litter of puppies decided to arrive. Mummy phoned Grandma Brenda to come and help. She arrived from Preston before my first baby arrived. It was a black and tan girl followed by a chocolate and tan girl and then two more black and tan babies. Unfortunately, one of these was born dead however, for the two hours nothing happened although Mummy and Grandma could see I had more babies to come.

At 7:15 am Mummy phoned the vet who said come straight down. We arrived at the surgery with my children carefully snuggled up with a hot water bottled and plenty of blankets. The vet was very kind and gentle as she examined me and she scanned my tummy before giving me an injection to help me along. Soon after I produced two more black and tan kids and again one was born dead. More examinations, scans and an x-ray followed. The x-ray showed two spines but the next scan only showed one heartbeat by this time the nurses and other staff had arrived for work and were very concerned for my children and I. Morning surgery was cancelled as I was the most important person that day!!

Mummy told the vet to do an immediate Caesarean, as I was very tired. Mummy and Grandma and my offspring waited in the waiting room whilst the very nice vet lady operated. When I woke up, I found I had two more chocolate and tan kids. They were quite weak but with Mummy and Grandma's help they were improving, even though my son was given up for dead and needed Grandmas "healing hands" to bring him round!

Once we arrived home, I settled down with my new family. Sadly, I didn't produce milk and could only mange to feed two of the babies. This meant a lot of sleepless nights for Mummy and Grandma as they reared two puppies each. I kept the two chocolate girls and my chocy son (Benny) went to Preston with one of the black and tan girls. Mummy kept the other two black and tans. Both humans did a wonderful job of rearing my kids for me, but sadly at seven weeks old, the three black and tans developed a virus from which they could not recover despite everyone's best efforts. They all went across the rainbow bridge. Mummy, Grandma and Aunty Judith were devastated. I didn't really understand why they all so upset. This left the three chocolate babes.

Mummy has kept one of my daughters and Grandma has kept Benny and their sister has gone to live with a lovely family in Scotland who already have my older son, Justin.

I have now been neutered so I can't have any more babies and go through that ordeal again and now I live in Preston with Benny, Grandma and Granddad Jim. I am very contented.

I would like to say very big thank you to Mummy, Grandma Brenda and everyone at the vets for helping me through a very difficult eight months and for loving my family and me. Thank you.

MIN PIN PEOPLE

"A breed apart"

Many thanks to all of you for "looking out" for Dom and Dudley whilst I was at the local Vet after the sudden collapse of Oscar at WKC in August.

There's nothing like a crisis to bring people together and I certainly appreciate being part of the Miniature Pinscher breed. Many thanks to you Aileen, Heather and Di Stark for your experience, kind assurances and phone calls and everyone who has asked after Oscar. Thank you all very much.

Just to put it all into perspective the very next morning, seemingly none the worse for wear, Oscar jumped into the bath to knock the bowl of cat biscuits off the bathroom shelf. He ate the lot! Well where else is a cat supposed to eat in safety when he lives with Dobermans as well as well as Pins.

Despite a set back at the beginning of September, Oscar is back to his "normal ways, aiding Dom to a 3rd place at JHA semi- finals (12 – 16 years). WELL DONE BOYS! As Oscar is such a special little person we are certainly keeping a close eye on him.

Wishing you all a
Happy Christmas and a very Merry New Year!!!
